BOOK BUZZ: CREDO ITALIA LAUNCHES TWO FEAR-ELIMINATING NOVELS TO TEENS AND ADULTS ON 30 JUNE, 2005.

Fear has become a global epidemic, especially for those about to create their futures: teens. FEAR AIN'T ALL THAT and DON'T BE AFRAID OF HEAVEN are two fear-eliminating novels written by Clint Adams; to be released on June 30, 2005 by Credo Italia publishing to teens and adults everywhere.

Viareggio, Lucca, Italy – June 23, 2005 – Who wouldn't want to be fearless? Probably everyone, but most likely teens. FEAR AIN'T ALL THAT and DON'T BE AFRAID OF HEAVEN are two teen novels written with a definite purpose: eliminating fear. On June 30, 2005, Credo Italia publishing will launch these two books with the help of Lightning Source UK digital printing and its U.S. distribution partners (Ingram, Baker & Taylor, and more) and international partners (Bertrams, Gardners, and others) to teen book-readers worldwide.

The summer will be focused on stocking inventory of these novels at bookstores/book retailers, predominantly throughout Europe and North America. The inauguration of FEAR AIN'T ALL THAT and DON'T BE AFRAID OF HEAVEN will officially take place September 29-October 2 as Credo Italia exhibits them at the Göteborg Book Fair in Göteborg, Sweden. On the first day of the Fair (Thursday, Sept. 29), Clint Adams, author of both books will speak as a featured lecturer at the Svenska Mässan Exhibition Centre.

According to Clint, “The question I tend to be asked most is, ‘Why did you choose to write about fear?’ Well, in most Creative Writing 101 classes, you learn to write what you know. For most of my life I lived with fear; not panic attacks, not anxieties, not phobias but fear of change, fear of intimacy, fear of success, etc.—this is all I knew, this is all I’d been taught. In my opinion, fear isn’t natural (not these anyway), we weren’t born with them...they’re all learned. My mission is to reach teens, helping them create futures without fear, before it’s too late.”

“Adolescents believe that ‘anything’s possible.’ Why can’t we all believe this...forever? It’s only fear that gets in the way. And now it’s time to get over it,” says Clint.
